

Abstract of the Disclosure

A lightweight coated fabric substrate of high tenacity yarns, such as nylon, polyester, polypropylene or the like is extrusion coated with a material resulting in a substantially air impermeable fabric with a tear strength-to-weight ratio of at least 8 pounds/oz. per sq. yd. at weights of between 2 and 7.5 oz. per sq. yd.